18	Absa, Ecobank, GCB, Stanbic Bank and Zenith Bank	Leverage Over Key Management Personnel And Some Board Members	To assure funding for private businesses aligned to our cause. In the unlikely event our bloc is not in power, we could also count on them to make pronouncements that will influence public opinion against the ruling government.	In progress
19	ABSA	Antoinette Kwofie To Become Managing Director Of ABSA Bank	In the event that the position of Managing Director of the institution becomes vacant hopefully with Nana still in power, diplomatic channels to Pretoria should be utilized in support of Antoinette ascending to the role.	In progress
20	Ecobank	Two Routes Of Entry Into This Institution	First is through SSNIT, which has a seat on the Board of Ecobank Ghana by virtue of its shareholding. That seat is occupied by the Director General of SSNIT. In Phase 2 of our agenda, Kofi Bosompem Osafo Maafo, who is a Deputy Director General of SSNIT, should be made the DG to give him the seat on the Ecobank (Ghana) Board. Secondly, the wife of Ace-Ankomah is the Group Head of Commercial Banking and a member of the Executive Management of the Ecobank Group.	Completed
21	GCB Bank	Board And Key Management Roles	This bank is already under government control. The main strategy here is to ensure that appointments to the Board and key management roles are based on loyalty to our cause.	Completed
22	Stanbic Bank	Successor To Andani And Other Key Appointments	Another South African bank that we can leverage on the diplomatic relationship between Accra and Pretoria to ensure that subsequent to that are favourable to the project goal.	In progress

23	National Insurance Commission	Insurance Commissioner	So far has worked effectively in furtherance of our objectives. This has underscored a clear understanding of the loyalty to Nana and our broader political objectives.	Completed
24	National Insurance Commission	Change in leadership	It is envisage that the Commission would be headed by a Bawumia loyalist.	In progress
25	GNAT, NAGRAT, UTAG, TUTAG, GMA et	Sponsor Elections Of Candidates To Executive Positions Of Key Labour Unions	So they can influence the appointment of Enterprise Trustees and Enterprise Investment Limited as trustees or fund managers of the Tier 2 & 3 pension funds of those labour unions	In progress
26	SIC Group	Appointments To The Board And Senior Management	Takeover	Completed
27	Bawumia	Install Bawumia As Part Of The Succession Plan	Its presence as government adviser on financial transactions is to be intensified, including knobbing interested foreign companies to partner with Databank on such issues. In furtherance of this end, all major government financial transactions are to be executed in the first two years of Nana's 2nd term. This will bring in the needed funds to fight the battle to install Bawumia as part of the succession plan to the advantage of Bawumia.	In progress
28	SAS	All Efforts Should Be Made To Weaken It	Regarding SAS, all efforts should be made to weaken it by using our feorieng friends to offer juicy fund/asset management roles to key personnel within SAS in order to tempt them away from that setup thus weakening its ability to comepte effectively.	In progress
29	Galamsey	The Need To Rollout A Major Rigorous Legal Means Of Controlling Significant Stake In Legal Gold Value Chain.	Growing environmental factors are rendering risky our use of illegal small-scale mining (galamsey) as a source of financing our political objectives. There is therefore the need to rollout a major rigorous legal means of controlling significant stake in legal gold value chain.	In progress
30	Asante Bediatuo	A Cursory Look At The Approved Concessions Should Be Looked At.	To this end a cursory look at the approved concessions should be looked at. Asante Bediatuo is to look the process to take over this concessions detailed below and consolidate them onto the extended Agyapa LLC, incorporated in Jersey.	In progress

31	Agyapa Royalties	The passage of the Minerals Income Investment Fund Act	The setting up of the first Special Purpose Vehicle (Agyapa Royalties) in Jersey, would allow us, acting in various capacities and through our friends, to acquire majority of the stake to be listed on the London Stock Exchange and the Ghana Stock Exchange. The cash flow would be strategically under-value to maximize our returns. We will get a share of the money raised through IPO on the two exchanges through "pave way" payments by contractors who will work on MIIF funded projects. We will also get a share of the dividends for our equity holding in the SPV.	In progress
32	Galamsey Legalisation	Setup Of Mining Companies By Our Allies	The funds raised will be used to finance the setup of mining companies by our allies. The Minerals Commission will be pushed to issue licenses and good concessions to these companies. This will effectively transition us from galamsey mining to legally licensed mining companies. Future inflows from these entities will be invested in additional companies to be strategically positioned along the precious minerals value chain.	In progress
33	Oil And Gas Sector	Setting Up Of SPVs Using Petroleum Revenues That Currently Flow Into The Consolidated Fund As Receivables To Be Mortgaged.	The technical team led by D.M (Ofori-Atta) should further evaluate the following details in order to choose the appropriate sites.	In progress
34	MTN	Legislation Will Need To Be Introduced To Breakup The Business Of MTN	Our sister in charge of the ministry responsible for this sector is doing remarkably well especially her confrontation with MTN Ghana resulting in administrative measures aimed at curtailing the business of MTN. From 2021, legislation will need to be introduced to breakup the business of MTN using national security and anti-trust reasons as justification. Our loyal allies will then be enabled to occupy the spaces to be ceded by MTN. Such entry will yield significant strategic advantages over our competitors.	In progress
35	EC Registration (2020)	NDC Eventually Becomes A Fringe Party	Whereas we do not expect the Electoral Commissioner herself to blatantly cripple the NDC, we could deploy the other non-EC functions, such as the need to maintain law and order, using our people within the security agencies to frustrate NDC supporters from either registering or voting. Brian Acheampong would be key in this endeavor.	Completed

			Before then we must have a critical evaluation of our strengths and weaknesses to be well positioned for the task ahead.
36	Kennedy Agyapong	A very good asset	The Party must, as a matter of need and plausibility defend him going into the 2020 elections. He has the utmost control over our "action troopers" and all the former criminal elements who are purposed for the final push. In addition to his deep pocket, his financing of the grassroots affirms our dire need of him at all cost in the 2020 elections.	Completed
37	Kennedy Agyapong	Self-Confessed Unbridled Quest For Personal Wealth	As a result, he must eventually be weaned off, as our project reaps dividends, to need less and less of his funding. His self-confessed unbridled quest for personal wealth is a potential threat to causing us to suffer needless exposure. It is important for a dossier to be prepared on him and deliberately leaked through our friends in the opposition who will call for his prosecution. Colonel Opoku is to revise the 2016 plan and progress to his dossier for this purpose but should not be filed under any official seals.	In progress
38	John Boadu	Level Of Competence	His actions and inactions are a complete definition of wealth accumulation agenda. His blatant involvement in galamsey in the Wassa area, if found, could be an embarrassing state of affairs. The last report prepared by Dr. Amoako Tuffuor affirms that fact as well as the revelation about the monies he took from 183 candidates for government appointments.  Unfortunately, his alcohol addiction and his weakness regarding women makes him hugely vulnerable. That notwithstanding, he has a rare talent to churn out crazy ideas which yield beneficial outcomes. He should only be watched and shepherded to hand over to much more competent person post the 2020 election. He has very little to offer in the 2020 elections and there is the need to import Agyarko, Papa Owusu Ankomah and Kwabena Agyapong to paper over potential flaws coming out of his actions.	Completed
39	Religion And Chieftaincy	Duncan Williams, Material Inducements	Critically, Duncan Williams; His love for money is not in doubt and material inducements and commercial gains make him vulnerable to market incentives. This means that he has a good nose for the highest bidder. His relationship with	Completed

			leading members of the NDC is an open secret. It is therefore important to encourage the EC Chair to build better relations and frequent his place as discreet as possible to seek spiritual directions and make firm pledges of her commitment to a transparent election, knowing very well that he will further reassure the NDC establishment of the honesty of the EC system. This will give them the comfort we need in order to tame a potential NDC aggressive posture towards the EC.
40	Religion And Chieftaincy	Bishop Charles Agyin Asare image denting	He must be watched carefully. Our men within his inner circle have done pretty well with accurate briefs but it is time to adopt an open muscular approach. The respect and esteem with which he is held by other leading pastors may need to be marred by recruiting other high staged pastors to launch vile attacks in some ingenious ways. However, the President must desist from directly responding to him as advised by our people within his inner circle.	In progress
41	Religion And Chieftaincy	Sam Korankye Ankrah- A constant eye watch and monitoring of this man	He is perhaps even more visibly a surrogate of the NDC, who has cleverly concealed this aspect to appear as a national Christian hero. A constant eye watch and monitoring of this man is required with specific efforts to contain his commercial interest which have been identified.	In progress
42	Religion And Chieftaincy	Pastor Mensa Otabil- Even Though Sympathetic To Us	Even though sympathetic to us, information suggests that the closure of Capital Bank has somehow affected his loyalty to Nana. Brother Ken Ofori Atta's account of his demeanor on the night before the announcement of the closure of Capital Bank indicates he was not too averse with our decision. The strategic implication of Ken meeting with the pastor and subsequent feedback from his inner circle points to the impression that he may, out of spite, opt for an NDC replacement. Should that happen, it would be seen as a declaration of war by one of our own. We should be reminded that an insider fighting you is more dangerous than the sworn enemy. In any case, he appears to be more aligned with the Kufuor camp. Intelligence efforts should be adopted to route his church following against his person should he defect. Possible access to his personal assets, business interests and potential relations with some women will need to be explored in finer detail.	In progress

43	National Chief Imam	Exit plan for the National Chief Imam	Government will need to find a discreet way of influencing the process of the appointment of the next National Chief Imam as well as the Deputy. The candidates for this should be well verified party sympathizers who are likely to stand with the party in crucial circumstances as has been with the current Ashanti Region Imam. Nana has shown his love for the Zongo Community by creating the Zongo Ministry and establishing the Zongo Development Fund. This is both remarkable and historic in the annals of the political history of Ghana. By this singular act, Nana has taken bold steps towards breaking the NDC monopoly of the Zongos. This project is a must if we ever intend remaining relevant within the Zongos. Finally, cognizance has to be taken for elevating over 50 chieftains to paramountcy status.	In progress
44	Media Landscape	Our Grand Scheme To Capture And Dominate The Media Landscape	We envisage that the role of Kwadwo Opong Nkrumah (KON) would continue to be crucial in our quest to dominate the Ghanaian media landscape. He was super when planted around some big weights of the erstwhile Mills-Mahama government. While at Joy FM, his secret recordings from the then government illuminated our discussions and greatly influenced our strategy which culminated in the landslide victory of 2016. No wonder that Gabby made every effort for the young man to be promoted to the office of a substantive Information Minister. This is more so when we cannot vouch for the credibility and loyalty of Dr Mustapha Hamid, at crucial times. He, Mustapha, was the longest serving spokesperson of Nana but we were shocked when Nana caught him stealing campaign cash in such critical opposition era where we were suffocating from inadequate resources to prosecute the campaign. It is now obvious that Mr. Nkrumah has an ultimate presidential ambition. We have a fiduciary duty to protect him and to assure him of our support for the future. The support would get him to commit to the media capture agenda.	Completed

45	Communication Ministry	Change in Leadership	In the next government (2021-24), Gabby has already convinced Nana to move Kwadwo Opong Nkrumah to the Communications Ministry to continue the clamp down on the opposition, as well as the not too friendly radio and television stations. He is already excited about this promise on two grounds; he would be deemed to remain one of the loyalists for the future. Secondly, that ministry has a one of the richest hence a conduit for him to increase his personal financial muscles for his presidential ambition.	In progress
46	Kojo Opong Nkrumah And Journalists	Total dominance of the media architecture in the nearest future	While our team aims at total dominance of the media architecture in the nearest future, there is the need to have a generally good appeal in the media. To this end, we have observed that the discourse in the media has been generally fruitful. This has not happened by accident. KON has successfully recruited about 80% of top journalists including some with adversarial tendencies towards us. His weekly covert meetings with them to plan the issues of the week have been exceedingly impactful. The roles of Kwaku Baako, Paul Adom Otchere, Kwame Sefa Kai and OB of Multimedia cannot be under estimated. It is for this reason that Nana nearly sacked Kan Dapaah for delaying the release of their monthly allowance of One Million Ghana Cedis (GH¢1m). Since the National Security budget does not go through the normal scrutiny, this group has to be assured of an enhancement of their regular emoluments in our next government on condition that they work hard for our anticipated victory in December.	Completed
47	Ursula Owusu	Closure Of Opposition Media	We score Ursula Owusu 70% for her execution of the agenda to close down pro-NDC radio and Television stations. While we praise her for closing media entities such as Radio XYZ, Kapital Radio, Muntie FM and many more, she scores some low marks in the implementation of the strategy. We expected her to leave Radio Gold from the list for obvious tactical reasons. She could have	Completed waved their debt like she has done for our friendly stations such as Ash FM in Kumasi. She could have been fired for avoidable backlash in strategy but for her longstanding role as Nana's protege.

48	Media Control	Threaten Manasseh Azure Awuni	There is no doubt that Joy 99.7 fm and the Multimedia Group will remain industry leaders in the communication sphere of the country. While relying on them as a veritable ally, anti-NPP agenda by some of their staff does not portend well for us. We were left with no choice but to have used our 'boys' to threaten Manasseh Azure Awuni. While his publications in the past inured to our political benefit, he has overstretched himself in his attempts to assume an air of neutrality. He was influential to our historic victory but his constant attacks on government culminating into the 'Militia' documentary was most unfortunate.	Completed
49	Media Control	Elaborate Support To Our Friendly Media	The NCA waivers we offered the Ken City Media and other party affiliates over their licenses must continue. In 2021, KON will present a comprehensive list of other radio stations that must be recruited into this fold.  We have to issue receipts covering the next ten (10) years as being payment of postpaid renewals. Professor Addai has already received instructions from Nana to give tax waivers to the media entities that would be submitted to him. KON is already making sure that about 90% of government advertisements go to the pro-NPP media. Same must be replicated in our next government. These lofty gestures would ensure that our friendly media houses consolidate financial reserves and use the power of financial capacity to outplay the NDC media in the ever-increasing competitive media environment.	Completed
50	Media Control	Reserving Electronic Communication Frequencies To True Party Faithful	Ursula has been instructed by Nana, through Gabby, to execute plan 'A' of this plan. Underpinning the plan is to allocate seized NDC frequencies to our members. Even if the original owners are willing to pay multiple of times, she is to refuse their renewal since dominance over money is our focal point. She is also supposed to reserve majority of the new frequencies to party members who are loyal to the Nana brand. Due	In progress to the backlash in the revocation of radio and TV licenses, she must, this time around, identify party members who are already in the media business and or those that the public sees as already rich. Gabby and Chairman Wontumi are part of the plan 'A' which continues till 2024 when the Nana completes his two terms. It is important to note that KON will among other strategies as the next Communications Minister, allocate frequencies which are close and can interfere with pro-NDC brands such as Class Media, Power FM and the EIB platforms across the country. We experimented same with Asaase 99.5 FM which was close to Joy 99.7 FM. This is a subtle way to fight the NDC media who may have met all the regulatory requirements.

51	Media Control	The Supersonic Rise Of The Angel Broadcasting Network (Abn) Is Worrying	It appears our work at disabling the EIB, GN Media and the ongoing efforts to do same with Multimedia won't be the end of the struggle. The increasing growth of Kweku Oteng's media brand must be troubling. Gabby and Kan Dapaah have already met Nana on the way forward in stopping the growing dominance of the ABN. National Security has since dispatched officials to do a thorough forensic audit on all the businesses of Kwku Oteng. In the event no adverse finding is discovered, we shall plant fake versions of his Adonko products on the market. We then have to use the same National Security and the FDA to arrest his production team in the full glare of the media. Like we did to his Angel Natural Capsules using our boys at FDA even in opposition, people will stop buying his Adonko products; the major source of his wealth. Professor Addai has also been instructed by Kan Dapaah to liaise with assigned National Security operatives to spontaneously lockup almost all the ABN brands in the country. They are to accuse them of under invoicing and cutting corners in payments of taxes. The broadcast companies would remain locked-up for about 3 months. This plan should be enough to completely halt the seeming dominance of ABN.	In progress
52	Media Control	Francisca Oteng Must Be Axed From Parliament	There is no doubt that one reason that will make our fight against Kwaku Oteng is his daughter who is the MP for Kwabre East. Nana nearly made her a Deputy Minister for Youth and Sports largely due to her age and her father's influence until the BNI report on her got to him. She seems	Completed

			to be pitching camp with Alan and ignorantly the Ashanti card. She will work against Dr. Bawumia's bid after Nana. Although she lobbied for Deputy Ministerial Appointment, Nana only gave her the NYA board membership, just to stop her father from complaining about his token for the 2016 campaign. Sammy Awuku, John Boadu and Chairman Wontumi have been tasked to ensure that she is contested and also, loses the 2024 parliamentary primary of the party. In her stead, the current presiding member of Kwabre East, George Oppong, (soon to be a lawyer) or any other well-known Akufo-Addo supporter must be assisted to take over the seat by hook or crook.
53	NCA Board	Kwame Sefa Kai	The kitchen cabinet of Nana feels that while Paul is equally known, he has credibility issues to deal with especially on the conundrum surrounding his withdrawal from the Ghana Law School. Settling on him for the future could create credibility challenges for a ticket. In the next government, Nana will convince Sefa Kai to chair the N.C.A board. We believe that Paul is easily swayed by money hence we cannot trust him for any sensitive position. Gabby has already agreed with Nana to move Paul from the NCA to the NMC, which he would be supported to chair. We believe that Paul, although may not be too excited about this prospect, he would gladly accept it as compensation for the work he has been doing for us especially on the Metro TV's GOOD EVENING GHANA show.	In process
54	Ghana Broadcasting Corporation	Hijacking Of GBC	Sadly, the GBC has largely tilted towards the NDC. Perhaps the duration of the NDC as the longest ruling party has ensured that majority of the GBC workers are anti NPP. We have planned a three-layer approach to capturing and controlling the state broadcaster for good. Firstly, the plan to revoke some of their TV channels will resume in 2021. We have had to backtrack due to the brouhaha surrounding the revocation of their 3 channels. It appears the time; an election year was inappropriate. KON will execute this with finesse and make the channels available to our	In progress

			party business guys whose list is being compiled. A number of the GBC radio stations will be sold since they are not living up to the task. Secondly, in our next government, we have to execute a massive agenda where most senior GBC staff will proceed on leave. Others will also be transferred to some very remote communities where live appears unbearable. The strategy is to get them resign and their positions be filled with party loyalists. This way, we will not only have taken over the state broadcaster but our plans to sell some of their frequencies will be met with little or no hesitation. Thirdly, the last straw is to continue to ensure that the GBC is inflicted with inadequate budgetary allocations. That will justify the need to sell their frequencies. It will also make their leadership even more loyal since they will have to continually keep mute to get bits of their budgetary releases from the Finance Ministry.
55	The Judiciary And Governance In Ghana	Dominance and maintain power in 2020 and the next 20 years	Our focus as a party has always been to position our members and sympathizers at strategic positions both in government and in the judiciary to cover and protect our interest. This has served us well over the period. All the appointments made to the Supreme Court, Court of Appeal and some of the High Courts in Ghana under our government was to promote the NPP agenda and to ensure our country never falls in the hands of the opposition NDC. The judicial power of Ghana shall be vested in the Judiciary; accordingly, neither the President nor any organ or agency of the President or Parliament shall have or be given final judicial power. The recent decision to exclude the use of birth certificate to prove one's citizenship during the 2020 Voter Registration exercise is a clear example of the agenda to prevent so many people from registering for this year's election especially in our opponent strongholds. We had statistics to suggest the negative impact it would have had for us had we allowed it. All this was done to pave way for a resounding victory for the NPP and Nana in the 2020 elections. It is	In progress

		important that we maintain the security we enjoy currently under the judicial systems. It is imperative to observe that in recent times most elections in Africa have been fraught with post-elections legal challenges. Kenya, Ivory Coast and Zimbabwe are few of these cases. As this becomes a norm, our own experience of 2013 should never happen again. We should never be in this situation and the lessons should teach us a lot. Occasionally it can be discovered that the Courts have been instrumental in shaping the democracy in Ghana, and stakeholders are devotedly operating within the legal framework governing elections, despite logistical, law enforcement and justice delivery challenges. We should as a lineage, be the winner in this. We have to make sure that even in the unlikely event that the NDC win the 2020 elections that they do not get the chance to appoint more judges to the Supreme Court. Our control over the judiciary is important for our protection even if we were to lose the election. To prevent such unfortunate situations from occurring, we need to explore all legal avenues to protect our appointees within the judicial system and find out ways to prevent any new government from making further appointments within the next 10 years at least. We must also re-strategize our campaign. We need to find ways to get majority of Ghanaians to be on our side. The Agyapa deal may initially create problems for us but we would need good communicators, people with the legal brains to explain the issues to the general population that the deal is in the national interest. While only the Judiciary can exercise the judicial function, it is slow to resolve disputed facts and law and often strains to uphold executive authority. For instance, while the Constitution commands that the President appoints members of the Electoral Commission acting on the advice of the Council of state, the court has interpreted this requirement as if the President merely has to consult with the Council of State. In another case, the court has taken over two years and is yet to resolve a simple question of law of whether the President can appoint a person who is past the

			mandatory retirement age to hold a public office. It does not help matters that the President can appoint an unlimited number of judges to the Supreme Court. While the Nana has been in office for three years, he has appointed nine judges, including two Chief Justices. Admittedly, many of these appointments are made to replace retiring judges and there is no systematic evidence of a deliberate effort to undermine judicial independence. Nevertheless, it feeds the perception that the President is packing the court to gain influence over judicial decisions. To breathe life into the separation of power doctrine, there is a need to amend Article 108 to allow MPs to introduce private member bills. It is not an entrenched provision of the Constitution and can be amended with a two-thirds majority. Fortunately, Speaker Professor Mike Ocquaye has signaled that even in the absence of a constitutional amendment, Parliament can address this problem. It is expected that the ongoing process to revise the Standing Orders of Parliament will contain provisions to allow MPs to introduce non-finance bills. It is necessary to amend Article 78 to allow a President to choose majority of Ministers outside Parliament and also to have a ceiling on the number of Ministers required for running government. We also need to place a ceiling on the number of Supreme Court justices and to require all of them to hear all cases, especially those with constitutional ramifications. In the short term and in the absence of a constitutional amendment, as was suggested as far back in 2003 by Professor H. Kwasi Prempeh, there is a need to develop conventions to address some of these gaps rather than take actions that maintain the status quo or exacerbate the problem. In respect of Article 78, through a convention developed between the Executive and Legislature, a cap on number of ministers can be reached. Ideally, it can double the number required of a cabinet (38) excluding regional ministers. A similar convention can be adopted to provide for a ceiling on the number of Supreme Court Justice to be appointed.
--	--	--	---	--

			The 2020 elections will not be easy for us with current happenings, we need to sit up. Why are we so quiet on the Airbus scandal? Yes we know we haven't found enough to indict Mahama but a lot of Ghanaians were buying into our approach. Why have we stopped! It is time to go back to the drawing board. We must make sure we use the court system to help us damage the NDC beyond repair. Let us start prosecuting people. That is why we put our people there. Otherwise we have a problem. Our attempt to take charge of the Judiciary is a matter of necessity. Lest we forget, that in Accra on June 30, 1982, between the hours of 9.00pm and 10:30pm, four peace-loving and illustrious Ghanaian citizens were abducted and callously murdered. The four were Mrs. Justice Cecilia Koranteng-Addo, Justices FP. Sarkodee and K.A. Agyepong and Major Sam Acquah (rtd). Five people - Joachim Amartey Kwei (then 32 years); L/Cpl Samuel Kwaku Amedeka (27); L/Cpl Michael Senya (21); Johnny Dzandu (23) and Tony Tekpor (24) were tried by a National Public Tribunal, chaired by Mr. George Agyekum. We cannot acquiesce to the public quest for bygones be bygones mantra. It is important to understand that the origin still stays with our good friend and former foe, Mr. Rawlings.

56	International Relations With Wagner Head (Mr. Yevgeny Prigozhin)	handing out Magazin to the NPP Government	Our Russian allies have proven themselves with operation 'Magazin'. We couldn't have made it thus far with the aggressive nature of the opposition without this strategic document. By handing out Magazin to the NPP Government, we will need to develop a much longer relationship with them even if in the unlikely situation of the party ever going into opposition. However, C.O.P Appiatu will need to be handled. Having served as the eye of the Russian federation in our republic, it is very imperative to redevelop relations and try to avert his anger. His refusal to go as an Ambassador to the Ukraine signals that the Russians still trust him and will be unwilling to deal with the party in the long run without him. The implementation led by Sammy Awuku, Laud Commey, Michael Opoku and rest will still have to be coordinated with Appiatu in its fullest brute form to achieve a total annihilation of the NDC opposition and its leading elements. We need to properly assess the genuineness of Mr. Yevgeny Prigozhin. He had disclosed in the last meeting in London that he was all for Nana and has had no dealings whatsoever, with the former President and his party. He repeated this statement in Sochi at a dinner we had with the Egyptian President. It has however been difficult to double check this statement from Mr. Appiatu. It is our duty to consider what is set out in the bigger Russian picture and pick and choose what will benefit the family. This is key because Ghana is ranked at level 3 and the magazine programme only suffices up to end of 2020. It is instructive to look at the Moscow grand plan beyond 2020. The Russian DEVELOPMENT STRATEGY which covers the division of the African economy is meant to contrast the interest of other states. Now, in the light of the above, Kwame and Kusi are to consult and carefully check the benefits of this arrangement as against that of the US to properly position the family and our tradition to be the winners of this political chess game. By way of reference!!	Completed
